Week 10 – Am I Bored or Just Losing It?

Dear Members,

I don't know about you, but my to-do list isn't getting any shorter. Chores are chores and, sometimes, I just prefer to do other things. The kids think I'm losing it, but I thoroughly enjoyed myself finding new friends the other day. We had a good chat all morning and not one disagreement. Take a look at them below.

One hot topic for discussion at the moment is affiliation fees. I know we're all frustrated that we haven't been able to meet up. Patience is a virtue and we will meet again. In the meantime, NAFAS and the Sussex Area are reviewing affiliation fees and budgets. Once we have a plan, we'll let you know.

The Race: did I really ply my son with Guinness the night before Race 2? Am I claiming victory for a no-show? You betcha! It now all hangs on The Decider.

Keep safe everyone.

Jilly

#ImSoBored! ...renamed all the rooms in my house so I could say that today I went to the gym, headed into the office, grabbed a quick bite at the diner, and have an appointment at the spa this afternoon. Last weekend I travelled to Patio Vallarta...

Images of viruses are really quite beautiful. However, we're so bored, we made our own coronavirus out of plant material:

I'm so bored i wish someone would kidnap me so i could go on an adventure.

#imsoboredi hid a walkie talkie in the bushes in front of my house so I could scream at people when they go by and watch their reactions on my doorbell camera. No more tv needed.

Lockdown Lingo

Coronacoaster: the ups and downs of your mood during the pandemic. You're loving lockdown one minute but suddenly weepy with anxiety the next. It truly is "an emotional coronacoaster".

Quarantinis: experimental cocktails mixed from whatever random ingredients you have left in the house. The boozy equivalent of a store cupboard supper. Southern Comfort and Ribena quarantini with a glacé cherry garnish, anyone? These are sipped at "locktail hour", i.e. wine o'clock during lockdown, which seems to be creeping earlier with each passing week.

Blue Skype thinking: A work brainstorming session which takes place over a videoconferencing app. Such meetings might also be termed a "Zoomposium". Naturally, they are to be avoided if at all possible.

Le Creuset wrist: It's the new "avocado hand" - an aching arm after taking one's best saucepan outside to bang during the weekly 'Clap For Carers.' It might be heavy but you're keen to impress the neighbours with your high-quality kitchenware.

Furlough Merlot: Wine consumed in an attempt to relieve the frustration of not working. Also known as "bored-eaux" or "cabernet tedium".

Coronadose: An overdose of bad news from consuming too much media during a time of crisis. Can result in a panicdemic. Or in the case of Sussex Area Newsletters, a pundemic!

The elephant in the Zoom: The glaring issue during a videoconferencing call that nobody feels able to mention e.g. one participant has dramatically put on weight, suddenly sprouted terrible facial hair or has a worryingly messy house visible in the background.

Covidiot or Wuhan-ker: One who ignores public health advice or behaves with reckless disregard for the safety of others can be said to display "covidioy" or be "covidiotic". Also called a "lockclown" or even a "Wuhan-ker".

Goutbreak: The sudden fear that you've consumed so much wine, cheese, home-made cake and Easter chocolate in lockdown that your ankles are swelling up like a medieval king's.

Antisocial distancing: Using health precautions as an excuse for snubbing neighbours and generally ignoring people you find irritating.

Coughin' dodger: Someone so alarmed by an innocuous splutter or throat-clear that they back away in terror.

Mask-ara: Extra make-up applied to "make one's eyes pop" before venturing out in public wearing a face mask.

Covid-10: The 10lbs in weight that we're all gaining from comfort-eating and comfort-drinking. Also known as "fattening the curve".

Miley Cyrus: Cockney Rhyming slang for the 'rona

Blursday: an unspecified day because of lockdown's disorientating effect on time.

WFH: working from home.

Quaranteams: online teams created during lockdown.
